Target: Beacon Exercise

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION:

1. (S/SK/NF) Beacon was first perceived in an open area, near one large building which had some sort of overhang centered in the front (see sketch, page 4). A smaller, red brick building which has some sort of "stairstep" pattern is located nearby.
2. (S/SK/NF) The main site was characterized by a lot of curved patterns of bright colors, mostly orange, yellow and ochre. Throughout the session, the general feeling was that of stifling heat (as opposed to cool air conditioning). The only sounds were those of people and "clinks", like a cafeteria or restaurant.
3. (S/SK/NF) Dowsing produced impressions of the target being centrally located on the map. Trying to pinpoint within this area produced impressions in and around the PX/Post Office complex.
